'Laser Welded' segments. We have less segment loss than any company that we know of. How do we know this? Simple, we rebuild core bits. We see them all and we see why they lose segments. We could tell our competition what they are doing wrong, but we know that education is expensive. Our product performs even if it is a 'value' core bit like this one. We built this line to compete with the companies that use .100 Backer Pads.

When you have 'users' not caring what happens, misuse, rough use, or neglect, this is a bit that will take it and your buying for half the price. So if they want to tear up bits let them go. In this day and time that is very comforting and we are easy on your pocket book. This bit will use the extensions just like all our other barrels. We have a contractual guarantee. You won't believe it!
